

Comprehensible and flexible

Training

In-house & on-site training

Sustainable knowledge transfer in an optimal environment

BST offers customized training for optimized operations, either in-house at our showroom and training center in Bielefeld, or on-site.

With a deep focus on theoretical fundamentals, our training courses provide a strong foundation of knowledge. But our approach goes beyond that - we focus on hands-on operator training on state-of-the-art simulators in our training center.

This unique approach allows participants to practice and learn in a stress-free environment, free from outside influences such as production schedules and material changes.

Alternatively, BST also offers you the option of on-site training. Our fieldservice experts conduct training directly at your machines to train your team in the best possible way.

Benefits at a glance

Training without production pressure

Instructors with extensive service experience

Training at your site or in our training center

Instructions for different materials can be developed

Get in contact:

+49 521 40070-201

fieldservice@bst.group

